3.3. Discuss CPC Retreat 01/09/19

3.3.1. Good first discussion. Speaker/facilitator Rhonda Magee, M.A., J. D. did a good job describing the history of racism. There was an around the room check in where people shared their fears and hopes. The group ran out of time to complete the agenda items, but they did get a list of “next steps” recommendations from the facilitator. The professional facilitator led the group in mindfulness exercises. She also reminded the participants that problems cannot be resolved unless everyone is allowed to talk about their concerns and fear keeps people from talking. Some people commented that the January 24th Board meeting showed positive influence of the CPC Retreat in how people used techniques to improve communication.

3.4. Crossroads training-Cheryl

3.4.1. Cheryl told us that the focus of the second Crossroads meeting was for participants to keep a daily journal on racism complacency and what you are doing to change it. The focus was also on self-reflection and a reading was assigned (“White Supremacy Culture”). The third training will include a 2 day Action Plan. Caucusing techniques were shared.
